

The debut novel by Nahid Sewell

The Ruby Tear Catcher

a novel

Author, Nahid Sewell, speaks to us through the eyes of Leila, a young Iranian woman jailed during the Islamic Revolution in the 70's and 80's. Beauty, warmth, intolerance and religious differences are part of Leila's life as she describes her childhood in Tehran and her college days in the United States. During Nahid's guest appearance at Queen of Peace High School she will speak to us through her eyes about her personal experience with intolerance and differences.

Queen of Peace High School Presents Award Winning Author and Speaker

Nahid Sewell

Tuesday, March 13, 2012

7659 S. Linder, Burbank IL

Cost $10 includes (Peace students $5)

5:30 p.m. Light Dinner in the Peace Cafe

6:15 p.m. Guest speaker Nahid Sewell

7:15 p.m. Book Signing

V.I.P. Reception

Meet and greet fund raising reception $50. Enjoy Wine and Mediterranean fare with Nahid Sewell in the Peace Media Center at 5:30 p.m. After the reception join Nahid and others in the Peace Cafe for her presentation and book signing.

Sponsored by Mary Jane Leonard Beran '70 and Kay Leonard Otter '71
All proceeds benefit Queen of Peace High School and are tax-deductible.

Please respond by March 1, 2012

To participate select your ticket preference and register by

- paying online at www.queenofpeacehs.org
- calling (708) 496-4720 to pay by credit card
- mailing check (payable to Queen of Peace High School) 7659 S. Linder, Burbank IL

E-mail maksb@queenofpeacehs.org or call (708) 496-4720 for more information.

Nahid Sewell was born in Tehran, Iran. After obtaining her M.B.A. from Lehigh University in Pennsylvania, Nahid began a successful career in Information Technology. While holding a full-time position and raising a family, she wrote four non-fiction books and wrote hundreds of articles. Nahid served as a columnist for two magazines and earned a writing award for an article published in 2007. Her first non-fiction book was a best-seller. In 2011, Nahid, was selected a "Finalist of 50 Great Writers You Should Be Reading."

For more information on Nahid and her book visit www.therubytearcatcher.com.

Queen of Peace 50th Anniversary Speaker Series Committee:

Denise Metke Dalton '89, Caitlin Milligan '06, Cherie Russ '94, Sherry Trojnar Russo '68, Cindy Kmetty

